The civil justice system supports social order and economic activity, but a number of factors over the last decade have created a situation in which the value of civil justice is being undermined and the civil courts are in a state of dilapidation. For the 2008 Hamlyn Lectures, Hazel Genn discusses reforms to civil justice in England and around the world over the last decade in the context of escalating expenditure on criminal justice and vanishing civil trials. In critically assessing the claims and practice of mediation for civil disputes, she questions whether diverting cases out of the public courts and into private dispute resolution promotes access to justice, looks critically at the changed expectations of the judiciary in civil justice and points to the need for a better understanding of how judges ‘do justice’.

This text:
• Sets out a bold vision of the social importance of civil justice and challenges some of the modern anti-adjudication/pro-mediation discourse of the late twentieth century
• Provides a fresh perspective on the administration of civil justice and civil procedure by evaluating policy and changes to procedures within the context of the social purpose of the civil justice system
• Addresses topical policy issues on civil justice such as access to justice, legal costs, ADR and the judiciary, thereby stimulating and contributing to debate on matters of public importance
• Brings together the relationship between civil and criminal justice, thus offering broader insights into trends in justice policy and helping the reader to think outside of the traditional divisions between civil and criminal justice

‘Hazel Genn does not pull her punches. [The lectures] should be required reading especially for policy makers in government and for the senior judiciary.’

Michael Zander QC, New Law Journal

Contents

Publishing in October 2009
Paperback 978-0-521-13439-2 c. £13.99
Hardback 978-0-521-11894-1 c. £40.00

To view the full series of Hamlyn Lectures visit: www.cambridge.org/HAML
Order Form

Please return this form to:
HSS Marketing, Cambridge University Press, FREEPOST CB27, The Edinburgh Building, Cambridge CB2 1BR, UK. (no stamp needed)

Judging Civil Justice
HAZEL GENN

| Please send me ____ copies of | 9780521118941 | Hardback | c. £ 40.00 | £ ____________ |
| Please send me ____ copies of | 9780521134392 | Paperback | c. £ 13.99 | £ ____________ |

*VAT charges for European Community residents only £ ____________
Postage and packing (standard charge) £ 3.50
Airmail (£3.50 extra per book) £ ____________

Name
Email

Address
Country

Please allow 21 days for delivery in the UK

I enclose a sterling cheque for £ _________ payable to Cambridge University Press and drawn against a UK bank or

* Credit Card. Mastercard/VISA/American Express  *Delete as appropriate

Card Number

Expiry Date

Signature

Name of Cardholder

Cardholder’s account address (if different from delivery address)

Postcode
Country

Telephone/Fax ordering
Call +44(0)1223 326050
or fax +44(0)1223 326111 to order any Cambridge book on your credit card. See also www.cambridge.org

N.B. c. prices may change without notice

For information about our privacy and data protection policy, please visit uk.cambridge.org/privacy or email mlist@cambridge.org

*Value Added Tax charge for European Union residents.
If you live in the European Union in one of the following member states (Belgium, France, Germany, Ireland, Italy, Portugal, Spain or Sweden) and are not registered for VAT we are required to charge VAT at the rate applicable in your country of residence. If you live in any other member state in the EU and are not registered for VAT you will be charged VAT at the UK rate. Please add VAT for the full value of the order, including postage charges. Please note that disks, videos and cassettes are subject to VAT throughout the EU, including the UK. If you are registered for VAT please supply your registration number below and leave the VAT payment box blank. The Cambridge University Press VAT number is: GB 823 8476 09